However to insure our attendance there must come an invitation from Major Cheney, Don, or some other tavern keeper up there, requesting us to be their guests for a week.

—The Rockford Register-Gazette in speaking of the Winnebago bogus Christ says that "Lord" Schweinfurth and his angels ride in a new swell chariot. But what's the matter with flying. It's a good deal easier to keep the joints of a pair of wings greased. If the immaculate one and his retinue would fly over the city just once it would do more for his cause than a century of four-hour sermons. Won't you fly for us just once, Schweiny?

—A TELEGRAPH reporter took in the sights at the Methodist picnic a short time this afternoon, over at the old elm. Nearly two hundred young folks, and children of an older growth as well, were enjoying themselves under the abundant shade of the grove. A good breeze was blowing off the river making it truly "solid comfort" to rest in the friendly shade. Hammocks and swings were strung up to the trees, and were always occupied. Others took pleasant rides on the mystic Rock river. The cloth being spread at noon was soon surrounded by the merry picnicers, who partook of the various fruits, cakes and other eatables always found at such occasions. Everybody was having a good time, but the reporter was oblige to mount his wheel and "silently steal away.

FLASH IN THE PAN.

The Warlike Preparations of Tennessee's Governor.

MINERS MASTERS OF THE SITUATION

The Governor Powerless to Use the Troops Unless the Sheriff Asks for Them, and That Official Is Missing — Peaceable Measures To Be Tried—A Call for an Extra Session of the Legislature Issued by the Miners—The Governor Goes to Knoxville to Talk Up a Settlement.

NASHVILLE, July 22.—The state troops which are now at Knoxville, will not be sent to Briceville, and the miners are masters of the situation. The authorities are anxious to send troops forward, but it has been decided that they have not the power. The question as to the governor's authority to proceed to quell the miners' riots independently of the civil authorities—the sheriff of Anderson county having left the scene—was under discussion by his excellency and official friends all yesterday. Attorney General Pickel arrived in the morning, and he and General Marks were closeted with the governor for an hour. The attorney general then proceeded to draft his opinion, and was occupied with this during the entire day.

The Opinion Kept Secret.

The paper, which was an exhaustive one, was handed to the governor late in the afternoon, but he and all parties concerned declined to make known a word of of it. No orders were issued to the troops, however, and the governor and attorney general left last night for Knoxville. It was learned that General Pickel takes the position that Governor Buchanan was justified by law in sending the military to Anderson county in answer to the sheriff's demand, but as the sheriff has retired ignominiously from the field the governor is at the end of his rope.

Its Substance Leaks Out.

The military can only be used under civil authority, and in the absence of the sheriff the troops cannot be utilized. So that unless the sheriff of Anderson county comes forward and asks assistance and summons the national guard as a posse, the soldiers will go marching home. Governor Buchanan is very indignant at the sheriff of Anderson county for his failure to uphold the dignity of the law.

"The Commonwealth Is Peace."

It was also learned last night that the purpose of Governor Buchanan's visit to Knoxville is another attempt to pacify the miners and secure a peaceable settlement. As there is no probability of having the sheriff of Anderson county reenter the field, this is the last resort. If it fails the governor will then call an extra session of the legislature immediately to leave the matter in the general assembly's hands. This would be necessary if the miners fail to make peace, as the governor cannot settle the question by force in the absence of the sheriff.

THE MILITIA AT KNOXVILLE.

Awaiting Orders to Move That Will, It Seems, Never Come.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 22.—Thrilling scenes were enacted in this city yesterday and the excitement caused by the return of troops and convicts from Briceville was unabated. The presence of the largest body of soldiers seen here since the war and the fact that they may momentarily be called upon to go to battle with four times their number of determined men, each an adept in the use of firearms, caused the streets to be crowded from daybreak. The decision of the governor, who had been in consultation with the attorneygeneral all day, had not been received and the troops were taking a much needed rest.

The Whole State Guard Mustered.

Every military company in Tennessee was in this city yesterday morning awaiting orders from Governor Buchanan to go to the seat of the trouble with the miners at Briceville. There are nineteen companies in all, and contain nearly 600 men. Careful estimates place the number of miners at Coal Creek and Briceville at 1,500, but first signs of hostilities would doubtless call out nearly 1,000 more. General surprise is manifested here that the governor did not accompany the troops from Nashville. The feeling is that while his presence might not avert a conflict, his absence prevents further conference with the miners, so that the presence of troops will mean the surrender of the miners or a conflict.

Artillery and Gatling Guns.

The Buchanan Rifles of Nashville and the Nashville Light Artillery, with two Gatling guns with a capacity of 1,250 shots a minute, the Stone River Guards, the Shelbyville Guards and the Suwanee Guards, are in the force. General Carnes will be placed in entire charge of all the militia and arragements have been perfected to transport them to Coal creek unless contrary orders be received from the governor. Everything now depends on instructions from the governor.

The Miners Not Boasting.

An ominous feature of the situation is the quietude and lack of boasting on the part of the miners. There is a quiet determination in their attitude which indicates a dangerous desperation. The purpose of the troops is, of course, to return the convicts and protect them in their work at the mines, as well as to arrest the leaders of the movement forcing the troops and convicts to leave Monday. This, the miners say, will not be done. The disturbed locality will probably be placed under martial law by General Carnes as soon as he reaches there. This is regarded as the most effective way of preventing the miners from contcentraling for an attack.

MEETING OF THE COAL MINERS.

They Talk Peace, but All Have Their Guns on Hand.

A meeting of miners was held at Coal Creek yesterday afternoon. When the men assembled there were a few hot heads, who began to talk about resistance, but they were outsiders and not miners. The miners' leaders took possession of the meeting and would not allow such. Mr. Ingraham was called to preside, and the meeting was formally opened. There were speeches by a number of leaders and all of a conservative tone and advising against any sort or act or violation of the law. The men said they wanted the convicts sent away, and nothing more or less. Finally a resolution was unanimously passed to appoint a committee of five to go to Knoxville and Nashville if necessary to confer with Governor Buchanan and arbitrate the present difficulties.

Resolved to Protect Property.

A resolution was unanimously passed, each man pledging himself on his honor, that not one dollar's worth of property would be destroyed, and the company's property would be guarded. It was further determined that no one should offer violence to any one except in self defense. There is a sense of relief and quiet since the meeting. The miners seem to feel that they are now taking the proper course. There was some talk of attacking the troops coming to assist the operators. The meeting has resulted in good, for the men are now quiet. They are as determined as ever that no convicts shall work here, and say they will release all who come just as soon as the troops leave.

The Committee at Knoxville.

A telegram was received from the Kentucky side at Jellico yesterday offering a large number of men in case help was needed. The reply was for the men to hold themselves in readiness in case they were called for. Nearly every man present had a double-barrelled shotgun in his hand, a few Winchesters, and no small number of revolvers. The meeting was held in the grove near the Knoxville Iron company's mine. The committee of miners came to town last night to confer with the governor and effect a settlement before the troops started into Anderson county. The governor not being here, they called on General Carnes, but that gentleman declined to be interviewed.

Broken Promises Come Home to Roost.

It is feared that the miners will not keep their word not to molest property of the coal companies, since they stated Monday that they would not release the convicts at the works of the Knoxville Iron company and hardly waited until the troops were out of sight before they did just what they promised not to do. The prevailing opinion is that the mine machinery is safe so long as the miners think they will win in the end, but that the moment they feel they cannot longer keep out the militia, they will set fire to every mine in the district before leaving for other fields.

Request for Legislative Action.

COAL CREEK, Tenn., July 22.—At a secret meeting held last night at Briceville by the miners the following appeal to the public and the governor was given out: "You can do much for this state. From the moment the governor call an extra session of the legislature to abolish the convict lease system all opposition to the law will cease in this county. This is absolutely the best that can be assured and is in no sense a threat or attempt to intimidate, and is given publicity that much probable trouble may be avoided, as many miners' families are destitute and the importation of convict labor means the abandonment of their homes and the loss of the hard earnings of years."

All Quiet at the Seat of War.

COAL CREEK, Tenn., July 22.—Everything was quiet and orderly at 10 o'clock last night. There had been no demonstrations shown, and but few men were to be seen. No troops were expected.

THE BOND EXTENSION MOVEMENT.

One-Third of the Bonds Held by Banks Already Offered.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The movement for the continuance of 4½ per cent. bonds at 2 per cent. is steadily growing in importance. Papers covering about one-third of the bonds held by national banks have been perfected and the necessary withdrawals, assignments and reissues are being made as rapidly as possible. The papers returned during the last week for correction have been less in number than before, but the amount of bonds suspended on this account is still quite large.

Calculations on the Profits.

The department has received from several sources copies of a circular published by a prominent firm of bankers in New York, who make a specialty of investment securities, in which they show that there is a small profit to national banks in taking out additional circulation upon deposits of United states bonds. According to their calculations 4 per cents. bought at $1.18 by a bank located where money loans at 6 per cent. would yield a profit of $619 for each $100,000 of bonds, while the profit on 4½ per cents. continued at 2 per cent. would be $400 for each $100,000 in bonds.

The Treasury Makes Other Figures.

It is thought at the treasury department that this proposition would have been better stated if it had been based upon the capital to be invested instead of upon a given amount of bonds. For example, a bank with capital of $100,000 would have to invest $118,000 in order to obtain $100,000 bonds for circulation, while if it should invest only the amount of its capital it would have only $84,700 in 4 per cent. bonds as compared with $100,000 of the new continued bonds. Calculations made upon this basis show results less favorable to the 4 per cents., and with 4s at 1.19, or money loaning at 7 per cent., there is practically no difference in the profit derived from the two classes of bonds. Of course when money loans at more than 7 per cent. the new bonds are preferable.

Value of Land in London.

LONDON, July 22.—The enormous value reached by choicely situated land in this city is freshly illustrated by a real estate transaction which has just been completed. It is the leasing of a piece of crown land in Pall Mall, and the rental obtained is based on a selling price of half a million pounds sterling per acre.

SOME SMALL TALK.

Sam the Reverend Drops Into Political Prophecy.

THE ALLIANCE AND THE DEMOCRACY

From the Preacher's Point of View the Latter Is Jonah and the Former the Whale Down South—Modest Demands on the Democratic Platform—If It Includes Four Granger Points the Fifth Will Be Waived for a Time—Peffer in the Presidential Race.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Just before Sam Small left town Monday he had a few things to say about the politics of the south. "The Alliance brother," said Mr. Small, with a sweep of the arm, "is a horse that is galloping through the south with great energy. The rank and file of the southern Democracy are under the Alliance banner. They don't want a third party. The Democratic party is the party of the people. They are the people, and they have a few planks which they want to see in the platform of the people's party. They control seven or eight southern states and, as Democrats, they will send delegates to the national convention who will, as Democrats, ask that the Alliance doctrine be considered. Georgia has 84,000 Alliance Democrts; Arkansas has 75,000. Nearly all the farmers in South Carolina are for the Democracy and the Alliance."

Prefer Palmer for President.

"Have they come to any conclusion as to candidates?"

"No, I think not. They are against Hill because of his whisky record, and they are opposed to Cleveland because of his attitude on the silver question. Their favorite, if they have any at all, is John M. Palmer, of Illinois. They believe they can trust the old general. They like his style. President Polk, of the National Alliance, would get all the votes if he were a candidate for vice president."

The Democratic Platform.

"What do you think will be the outcome of the Alliance movement in national politics?"

"I believe the Democrats will recognize the necessity of adopting a platform embracing some of the Alliance planks The Democrats will have an overwhelming majority in the next congress. The Alliance leaven will work there. In February next there will be a national conference of Alliance men at Cincinnati. Congress will have been in session for three months at that time. The conference will review the work of the Democratic congress men, and the result will determine what the Alliance will do."

Four Alliance Planks Called For.

"What portion of the Alliance platform will the Alliance men insist upon the Democrats adopting in return for Alliance support?"

"There are four planks the Alliance will fight for. They will want their land loan, free coinage, direct issue of treasury notes, and graduated income tax planks inserted in the Democratic platform. They will be willing to postpone the consideration of other planks."

PEFFER HAS ASPIRATIONS.

He Would Like the Alliance Nomination for President.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 22.—The rumor that Senator Peffer was figuring for the nomination for president by the People's party in 1892 was confirmed yesterday. The Alliance Advocate, the People's party organ in Kansas, raises his banner and in an editorial states that as Kansas took the initiatory step in the new movement she is entitled to the honor. Until it was known that Senator Peffer desired the nomination the preference among Alliance men seemed to be for President Polk, of North Carolina. Senator Peffer's friends say that the man who was big enough to beat John J. Ingalls is big enough for a presidential candidate.

Forsker Calls on Sherman.

CINCINNATI, July 22.—Ex-Governor Forsker called on Senator Sherman at his rooms in the Gibson house yesterday. Reporters and others in the room were requested to retire. After this the two were closeted in private conference for nearly an hour. What the nature of this conference was has not transpired. Those waiting outside the room in the vain hope of learning its import heard the most pleasant intermingling of the voices of the two gentlemen, interrupted at frequent intervals during their interview by loud laughter, in which both joined.

A Matter of Binding Twine.

CHAMPAIGN, Ills., July 22.—It is said that the organizations of the Farmers' Alliance and F. M. B. A., of this county, are on the eve of disruption. It is also said that quite a number of the lodges have ceased to hold regular meetings, while some have given up their charters.

Col. Dudley Also to Resign.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Several Republican politicians at the Fifth Avenue hotel yesterday were discussing the business which would probably come before the meeting of the Republican national executive committee at Philadelphia next week, when the statement was made that there would be two resignations passed in together. W. W. Dudley, treasurer of the committee, it was said, would withdraw at the same time with Chairman Quay.

CALLED ON GOV. MERRIAM.

The Anti-Prize Fight Men at St. Paul Obtain a Concession.

ST. PAUL, July 22.—A committee consisting of Thomas Cochran, Bishop Ireland and ex-Senator McMillan, from Monday night's mass-meeting of citizens, called upon Governor Merriam yesterday to endeavor to have him interfere in the announced fight between Fitzsimmons and Hall. The committee was accompanied by about 500 citizens who waited outside while the committee interviewed the governor at the capitol. The conference lasted about an hour, at the end of which time the governor announced that upon the advice of State Attorney General Clapp, he had no right to take any steps in the matter and that county and city authorities were the proper officials to see that the laws of the state were enforced.

Agreed to Issue a Proclamation.

The governor announced that he had no authority in the matter, unless the county and city authorities should call upon him for aid in the premises, in which case he could call out the national guard The governor, however, promised the committee he would issue a proclamation calling attention to the laws of the state relative to prize fighting, and to the necessity of their enforcement. The proclamation was issued later in the day. It enjoins upon the officers whose duty it is the necessity and importance of seeing that the law is not violated, and warns them that in default of doing their duty they are liable to be held legally responsible.

Fitzsimmons Held in Bonds.

The only thing in the way of executing the law that was done was the arrest of Bob Fitzsimmons as he got off the train yesterday afternoon, and having him held in bonds to keep the peace. The hearing was before Judge Carroll, who fixed the bonds at $500, and also held his two trainers in $200 each. The examination was then postponed until Friday, so that the sluggers can go right on with their fight, and then take the consequences, and that is what they will do.

The whole party was overcome by gas and smoke, but the others managed to reach the skip and were brought to the surface, leaving young Pascoe behind.

Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" are tough against heat; they do not break, except from accident.

They are also clear, transparent, not misty or milky; they fit and stand upright; shape and proportions are right to direct the draft upon the flame.

They cost a little more than rough and wrong chimneys of common glass that break continually.

HOPE FOR IRELAND.

The British Tories Steal Liberal Political Thunder.

BALFOUR'S OFFER OF HOME RULE.

He Proposes to Put Erin on an Equal Footing with England and Scotland—Remarkable Rapprochement of Conservatives and Irishmen—Parnell Now Charged with Having Always Been a Stumbling Block.

LONDON, July 22.—In the house of commons Monday, during the debate on the Irish estimates, Secretary Balfour intimated that a local government bill, based broadly upon the lines of the English and Scotch government acts, would be introduced next session. Would such a bill, he asked, have the support of the Irish members? He doubted it. Timothy Healy interrupted the speaker, and declared that it certainly would. It is understood that such a measure will undoubtedly be part of the government programme for next session, and the subject is causing much speculation and comment among politicians.

The Condition of the Green Isle.

The discussion of the estimates in parliament had been made the occasion for long reviews in the newspaper press upon the improved condition of Ireland. The facts that agrarian crime has diminished; that trade has increased; that evictions have lessened in number; that boycotting has almost ceased; that the plan of campaign is almost extinct, and that emigration has decreased, are considerably touched upon. During the past week five of the principal banking corporations of Ireland have held their annual meetings, and, while carrying large balances to their reserve funds, they have each declared a dividend of 10 per cent.

"Bribed by American Dollars."

The Standard, referring to the improvement in the condition of Ireland, asserts that the discontinuance of the subsidies received from the United States is largely responsible for the improvement. "Tenants," The Standard adds, "bribed by American dollars will persist in their dishonest and unlawful conspiracy, but left to face unaided the consequence of their criminal mistake, first in one place and then in another they have found it necessary to surrender, while the humiliating collapse of the plan of campaign has given warning as to the worth of the solemn promises of agitators."

Opponents "Flopping Together."

In the meanwhile the most remarkable feature is the curious rapprochement between Balfour and the Irish members. The Irish see that their arch opponent is, after all, human, and that he has qualities of sincerity and courage not inferior to their own. The change has been on both sides, and Balfour has, perhaps, learned the most. Nothing was more striking than his manner of pioneering the land bill through the house of commons.

Ought to Satisfy Ireland.

It is generally conceded that if the proposed bill is broadly based on the lines of the English and Scotch acts, as the chief secretary has intimated it will be, the Irish members cannot consistently refuse to support it, no matter who may be their leader. It is contended by Conservative members and admitted by Irish commoners that Ireland cannot justly ask for a liberty of action greater than England or Scotland are content with, and, indeed, it has all along been asserted by the Irish members that with the same privileges and the same degree of local government as England and Scotland enjoy Ireland would be satisfied.

Parnell a Stumbling Block.

The amazing change of attitude of the Irish members toward the government party and any Irish measure emanating therefrom is generally ascribed to the fact that Parnell is no longer the leader of the Irish national party, or of any considerable portion of it. Were Parnell still in the possession of the confidence of the entire Irish party, as he once was, there is no doubt that he would throw cold water upon Balfour's advances, and lead his followers away from home rule, as he has often done before. An Irish member declared in the lobby of the house last evening that the conviction was now dawning upon him as well as upon many of his colleagues that Parnell has actually stood in the way of home rule for several years past.

Always Opposed to the Tories.

In the councils of his party he had steadily opposed every suggestion of cooperation with the Tory party in securing some slight advantage for Ireland from time to time. Yet when he was repudiated by the Liberals and deserted by a large majority of the National party, he sought to make terms with the Conservatives, and would have done so had he been able to command a respectable following. There is to-day a widespread feeling among Irishmen that by the downfall of Parnell the most serious obstacle in the way of home rule, which must come gradually, has been removed.

ENCOURAGING FOR THE FAIR.

The English Receive Our Commissioners with Great Cordiality.

LONDON, July 22.—The reception given to the World's fair commissioners by the Society of Arts, Chamber of Commerce, and other bodies since their arrival here has been highly gratifying to the visitors, and equally encouraging to the object of their visit. Though they were prepared in advance for the display of a reasonable degree of interest in the fair on the part of the English merchants, manufacturers, and others, they express themselves as amazed at the enthusiasm which abounds in every circle likely to be represented at the exposition.

Butterworth Greatly Surprised.

In his reply to Sir Cunliffe Owen's welcoming address at the chamber of commerce yesterday Mr. Butterworth took occasion to express the unbounded surprise of himself and his colleagues at the warmth of their reception and the deep interest which the Englishmen manifest in the great American enterprise. A dispatch from Paris, whither the commissioners will go on Friday, says the interest taken in their prospective visit justifies the belief that their reception in the French capital will be no less cordial.

Were in Canadian Waters.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 22.—An impression has got abroad that the six American fishing boats seized by the Dominion cruiser Dream, on the 16th inst., were not taken in British waters. The department has received the official report of the captain of the cruiser. He says there is no doubt that the boats when taken were within Canada's maritime jurisdiction.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

Peru will hold an exposition at Lima in July, 1892, and transport the greater part of it to Chicago in 1893.

Japan will spend $500,000 upon its exhibit. Its trade with the United States amounts to $35,000,000 annually.

Theodore Thomas, it is announced, will be musical director of the exposition, and Professor Tomlins choral director.

A Boston orchestra, composed of young women, has offered to furnish music at the women's building during the exposition.

Informal information has been received of the acceptance of the invitation to participate in the World's fair by Russia, Japan, Peru, Brazil and a number of others.

Chief of Construction Burnham has appointed Dion Geraldine superintendent of buildings of the exposition. He expects soon to have 100 draughtsmen and fifty surveyors at work.

France, Great Britain, Spain, Venezuela, Mexico, Salvador, Guatamala, Nicaragua, Honduras, San Domingo and Colombia have formally accepted the invitation to participate in the exposition.

Dr. J. F. Fox, member of parliament for Kings county, Ireland, visited exposition headquarters recently and assured the officials that there will be a fine exhibit from the Emerald isle at Chicago in 1893.

The Art and Trades association at Vienna has declared in favor of the artists and manufacturers of Austria making a creditable exhibit at Chicago, and has urged the government to assist them to do so.

W. T. Baker, who succeeds L. J. Gage as president of the local directory, is president also of the Chicago board of trade. His enthusiastic work in behalf of the exposition, together with his recognized ability, secured his election as head of the directory.

It is announced that the lady managers will soon send Miss M. B. Schiller, of Pittsburg, to Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and Brazil; Miss Ellen A. Ford, of Brooklyn, to Chili, Argentine Republic, Paraguay and Uruguay; and another woman, yet to be selected, to Mexico and Central America.

The department of publicity and promotion, of which M. P. Hanby is chief, is sending out in six or seven languages between 3,000 and 4,000 separate pieces of World's fair literature daily. They go to about 20,000 newspapers and 5,000 individuals and commercial agencies, etc., in nearly every nation on the globe.

Abraham Monakad, a Syrian residing in Damascus, wants to reproduce at the fair a portion of "The Street Called Straight," and the house of Cornelius, in which the Apostle Paul was converted, and to exhibit a dozen of his countrymen engaged in embroidering, playing and singing national airs, and making and serving coffee in Syrian style.

Kearney, Neb., has an incorporated "World's Fair Excursion and Investment Company," with capital stock of $100,000. It invites persons to pay to it fifty-two dollars in installments of fifty cents a week, and agrees for that sum to take them to and from the World's fair in special trains, pay for their meals en route and their living expenses for a week in Chicago at the best three dollar per day hotel, and furnish them with tickets of admission, guides and printed information.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

The fare for a round trip over the Pike's Peak road from Manitou to the top of the mountain has been fixed at five dollars.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, after three winters' practical tests, has decided to equip all of its passenger cars with steam heating apparatus.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four, predicts excellent crops this year, handsome railroad earnings, and that the stock of the Big Four before Christmas will be selling at par.

B. M. Cutten has been appointed general superintendent of the Chesapeake and Ohio and Southwestern road, vice J. L. Fraser, resigned. Mr. Cutten has been division superintendent on the Northern Pacific.

A certificate of organization of the Mobile and Western railroad has been filed at Montgomery, Ala. The proposed road is to run from Mobile in a westerly direction to some point on the Alabama state line. The capital stock is $360,000.

The Long Island railroad, one of the few lines still using the vacuum brake, is about to equip all of its 400 passenger cars with the Westinghouse automatic brake. This will leave less than 100 cars in the country outside of the elevated roads in New York that are equipped with vacuum brakes.

The Concord and Montreal railroad has leased from the Old Colony railroad for ninety-nine years the six mile link between North Acton and Concord Junction, Mass., and the former will run all its summer mountain trains via its Acton branch. Heretofore the through mountain travel has been via Lowell.

The stockholders of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad company have leased the Cincinnati, Dayton and Ironton railroad for ninety nine years, renewable forever. The consideration is that the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton people are to guarantee the principal and interest of $3,500,000 for fifty years, 5 per cent. gold bonds, secured by mortgage.

The fast torpedo boats Boomerang and Karrakatta, of 735 tons and 4,500 horse power, which are being built for the Austrian government at the Armstrong works, will be in the water in a few months. They will have a speed of twenty-one knots and will be armed with two twelve centimeter guns and four rapid-fire guns.

By direction of the acting Secretary of War, Captain Edward Field, Fourth artillery, will visit the encampment of the Georgia militia at Camp Chickamauga, beginning June 15, 1891, and continue from four to six weeks, for the purpose of inspecting and instructing the troops taking part therein, and on the completion of this duty will return to his proper station.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheny & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

A PAIN IN THE BACK

A pain in the back is not always the sign of kidney trouble. Quite often it is only an indication of cold, although if neglected it is liable to lead to grave trouble. By treating it at once you will save yourself a vast amount of suffering and annoyance. In all cases of this sort take Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure. It is composed of simple, yet powerful, ingredients, but none of them are harmful even to the weakest constitution, nor is it unpleasant to take, but it acts at once and will relieve the worst pain and all tendency to rheumatism which always follows colds that are allowed to settle in the back if they are neglected. All dealers keep it. Twenty five and fifty cents a bottle.

Don't be a spider and crawl in these days! Why not keep up with the nineteenth century? You would not buy a steam engine made like those of a century ago. Then why should you buy the old-fashioned, big, drastic pills that gripe and debilitate your system?

As great improvements have been made in pills as in steam engines. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules, or pills, are easiest to take, and never gripe or shock the system.

They are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless.

One little Pellet's a laxative, three to four are cathartic. They regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels—quickly, but thoroughly. They're the cheapest pill, sold by druggists, because you only pay for the good you get. They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, every time, or your money is returned. That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

That Shoe Factory Removal.

For some time the newspapers throughout the country have had much to say concerning the proposed location by C. S. Fargo & Co. of a shoe factory in some city not far from Chicago. We do not for a moment imagine that the great shoe dealers are in any scheme of procuring free advertising, as has been suggested; believing as we do that they certainly intend to concentrate their manufacturing interest in a factory to be located within about one hundred miles of Chicaga, more or less. In all the great wholesale dealers of this country none stand higher than C. S. Fargo & Co., and they well deserve the good name they have earned, as our people here, where several members of the Fargo family have resided, can well testify. The company's propositions for a new factory are at all events being well advertised and many cities of the Northwest are sending delegations to the head office in Chicago hoping to make favorable negotiations. C. S Fargo & Co. made certain suggestions as to what they required and though several cities have we learn, accepted the proposals as made yet the firm has other matters of importance to be considered; such as freight rates, railroad facilities, etc. The city of Kankakee accepted the terms proposed but up to the present the great shoedealers have not accepted the offer. It is understood that the fact that there is now located here a large shoe factory is not an objection to the erection of another. The concentration of factories of the same sort in a town proves generally beneficial to all the plants on account of the tendency to educate labor in the direction required. Owing to the application for the factory from many cities in the northwest we presume that the question will not be decided for some time.

The Dixon Sun probably agrees with us on this advertising proposition as our neighbor gave the C. S. Fargo & Co. factory removal business early last week an extended editorial as well as extracts on the subject from Chicago newspaper.

Bluff Camp.

A delightful picnic at Godfrey's Bluff was yesterday enjoyed by nearly ninety guests, invited by Miss Hattie Stroup. From the arrival to the departure of the visitors they were nicely waited upon by the young men of the Rink camp, Will Rink, John Barge, Charlie Green and Champ Barth, not forgetting the many kindnesses of Hop Hill, who lives on the river near the bluff in a house boat. Miss Stroup was assisted in serving an excellent dinner (cooked by Will Rink and Alexander Jones) by Misses Anna Carpenter, Clara Trowbridge, Annie Howell, Mamie Pankhurst and Clara Rink. A better spread is seldom seen in the woods and the people were in prime condition to receive it. It will be a long time before the picnickers will forget that meal. The music was furnished by Prof. Heft's orchestra of young violinists:—Misses Lulu and Nan Hunt, May Reuf, Emma Hegert, Alice Heft and Masters Hortie Godfrey, Theodore Klossowski, Frank Klossowski and Harry Applington, Miss Stroup accompanied the orchestra on the organ and also sang a solo. Harry Applington, accompanied on the organ by his mother, also entertained the company with music. Then came clog dancing by Chas. Godfrey to banjo music by Miss Martin; Mrs. E. N. Howell and Miss McMartin gave a banjo duet; and E. C. Parsons whistled the "mocking bird" to which the feathered denizens of the forest gave ear. The thrilling feature of the day was the daring and desperate rescue from the pale faces of Mrs. Rain-in-the-face (C. E. Ebert) by Chief Sit-all-day-and-fish (John Barge) and the war dance to the music of the tom tom closing the scene. John is built that way and to see him gaily bedecked with feathers and war paint gallop into camp on his prancing steed from the woods, with many a whoop and war cry must cause the many long dead Black Hawk braves, who are buried on that bluff, to turn over in their graves.

A Day at Camp Allen.

Would THE EVENING TELEGRAPH like an acount of the visit at Camp Allen? A more lovelier location or a more congenial party would be difficult to find. Dixon people probably all know of the old stone house on the Truman farm, and how beautifully the hill slopes from it, to within a few yards of the river bank, at that point between the slope and the river there is a fine level grass plat, soft and smooth as velvet, here the campers have rested their tents. What a charming place to spend a few days or weeks! The view is splendid as you sit and look over the river. Nearest of all is myers Island and at the right beyond that the eye rests on a field of waving corn of a dark rich green, alongside of that a field of grain ready for the reapers, in front a real eastern hill with clumps of trees, and cattle pasturing reminding us of the "Cattle on a thousand hills" and then on up the beautiful Rock River toward Hazelwood. Oh! it needs the eye and pen of an artist to describe so lovely a picture, my feeble effort is an utter failure. But the party, how happy they all seem. We were received very cordially and escorted about to see how really comfortable camp life may be made. First at the foot of the hill is their tennis court, comparing quite favorably with the one on the Nachusa lawn, thanks to John Laing who was so kind as to take up his lawn mower and clip the grass; a can of white wash and a brush finished it very satisfactorily. Now come the tents, six in all, four for sleeping, one for storing provisions and the dining tent, this latter covered with netting entire, delightfully cool and dainty, the table trimmed artistically with ferns and flowers and a menu something wonderful for the woods, indeed their only unsolved problem seemed to be what was to be done with so many eatables. Each sleeping tent looked comfortable, cosy and very neat and I noticed were appropriately named. One I saw was called "Saints Rest," and upon learning who occupied it, I knew at once it was rightly named. The "Maidens Retreat," the resting place of four sweet girls was pretty and appropriate, but the "Hub and Spokes" puzzled me, until looking within I noticed the beds were made up with the heads to the centre pole. I questioned the young ladies of this tent regarding its singular name, and they said I had not guessed the true reason, it was named from its circular shape and the most of them spoke all night and there were just enough brains left in the party of four in the morning to think of this Bostonian name. We were allowed a peep at the "Wasps Nest" and "Tramps Den," the latter for transients; well, it was nice beyond description. Ned Sickels the principal agent in bringing together this jolly party was (at the time of my arrival) sitting up in the branches of a tall tree and told me, in the presence of the ladies, it was the only place he felt entirely safe, until "Timms" came, who is a brave knight and willing to die for his friend if need be. The trees just here add much to their comfort; being at such convenient distances for hanging their hammocks and swinging chairs, and as we rode down the hill several of the hammocks looked as if suspended over the water. The boats too deserve mention, for sailing is no small part of the enjoyment and form a pretty picture while lying idle at the landing, and are still more picturesque when filled with merry voyagers, skimming the surface of the water. What the evening is here I will leave others to tell; music, I know is one feature, as I saw two guitars, a violin and a Jews' harp. Merry games and interesting company cause the time to pass pleasantly, while the silvery rays of the moon must make the evening surpass the day if that were possible; but I must leave it all, and did with regret. A VISITOR.

Timely Advice.

Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a reliable remedy for bowel complaints. It is almost certain to be needed, and no family can afford to be without it. It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering, if not life. There are many different remedies in use, but Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is undoubtedly the best. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. E. Donaldson, Druggist.

Guaranteed free from Verdigris or other impurity, containing the rich properties of malt, Chase's Barley Malt Whisky builds up the system and strengthens the lungs.
